A woman is the central figure, dressed in a vibrant red saree with a subtle gold geometric pattern. She is adorned with extensive gold jewelry, including a large necklace with a central pendant, multiple bangles on her right wrist, a ring, and a nose ring. She holds several ornate golden bells in her right hand. Her hair is styled with a crown of white and yellow flowers, and a bindi is visible on her forehead. The background is a textured, golden wall with decorative elements and hanging bells. To the left, a golden ceremonial pot (kalash) sits on a stone base.
